nishes to the San Francisco Bulletin an article on the fisheries of California, which will be read with some Lahaina, Oct. 24, No longer ago than 1846, sperm oil was worth only 95 cents per gallon, and right whale but 25 and 40 Honolulu, Oct 20, cents, while whalebone brought but 30 and 32 cents per lb. Now, sperm oil is worth from $1 50 to $1 75 per gallon, and but little to be obtained for burning at that, most of it being bought for machinery and the remainder being used in light-houses. I will venture to say that not one man in five hundred who buys sperm oil in various towns and cities of the United States ever gets the pure article, but receives either blackfish, humpback, or bleached right whale | Honolulu, Oct 11, oil instead. As but few comparatively know the difference, perhaps they are just as well satisfied. Right whale oil now brings from 60 to 70 cents per gallon. Bone, being applied to many new uses, is worth from 50 to 60 cents per lb. Although wonderful improvements have been made in agriculture, the arts and manufactures within the last ten years, none of any importance has been made in the whaling business, with the exception of the bomb-lance; and even that is not so effective as could be desired. With but few unimportant exceptions, the means used at the present time are exactly the same as were practised forcy

Formerly, it was not an uncommon thing for ships to return home with 2,500 or 3,000 barrels of oil, af- Honolulu, Oct 10, ter an absence of but twelve or fifteen months; now, if that quantity is obtained in three years it is considered a good voyage. The old whaling grounds of the Crozetts, Brazil and Chile, and the coasts of New Holland and New Zealand, are now hardly worth visiting. In miner's parlance, those diggings are worked out. Not one ship in ten is now able to do a profitable season's work there. The only grounds which are really valuable at the present day are the coast of Kamschatka, the Ochotsk Sea, Arctic Ocean, and northwest coast of America; and there the whales are becoming more scarce every year, and more dif-

Any person can perceive this who will take the trouble to examine the reports of the whalers that have arrived at the Sandwich Islands within the last

Unless some method is adopted by which we can catch the humpback and finback, whaling will cease to be the principal business of New Bedford, Nantucket and other large places that have been built up and | Hilo. Sept. 8, are supported by it. This is a stubborn fact that must be acknowledged if we draw our indifference from the past. It is but little more than seventy years ago that whaling was commenced by the inhabitants of Nantucket and New Bedford. Whales were then so numerous on the shores and in the bays of New England, that the business was carried on in small boats, which, having succeeded in taking their noble prey, towed it back to the beach where it was flinched on top at low water, and then turned over with tackles at high tide, so as to get at the under side. But a short time sufficed to thin off these visitors to our eastern shores. Then sloops and schooners were fitted out and dispatched for the purpose, which, after taking a whale, would either tow the prize into Lahaina. Oct. 24, port, if the wind was fair, or cut it in along-side and then, carry the blubber into port to be tried out.

This did not last long, the whales became scarcer and scarcer, until at the present day our ships do not stop short all the Arctic ocean, and their voyages are often prolonged four, five, and even six years. During these long trips it frequently occurs that their crews do not put their feet on terra firma for six or seven months.

REWARDS OF MECHANICAL GENIUS .- It is stated in the Scientific American, that the right to a portion of Ward's Patent Shingle Machine was recently sold in Albany for $35,000. A portion of Robertson's Sewing Machine has also been sold for $30,000. This is an invention which can be carried in the pocket, and will enable a seamstress to do in one day the ordinary labor of a week. Machines of this kind are about to be constructed in New Haven, Coun., by the Messrs. Jerome, at $10 a piece; the manufacturers are now constructing the machinery, and expect to sell orders in January. How's Patent Sewing Ma-chine yields, it is said, $50,000 for licenses to use it, Jas. Arnold and Singer's machine puts $75,000 in the pockets of the owners. Rights to the use of a corn-planter have | Honolulu, Aug 26 Java been sold to the amount of $30,000. Clark's Patent Lahaina, Oct. 13, Jas. Maury Pump sold for $30,000. A portion to a right to an Hile, Apple Paring Machine, $2,000. Creamer's Patent Car Brake, $200,000. Such rewards as these for American inventions, are certainly stimulating to Lahaina, mechanical genius.
